SHAFR 2025 Draft Program

Thursday, June 26

10:00am-4:00pm Registration 10:00am-5:00pm Book Exhibit

9:30am-11:00am Past Presidents Brunch
10:00am-11:00am International Members Coffee Klatch

11:00am-12:30pm Session I

Panel 1: International History in the Middle East and the Middle East in International History

Chair: Melvyn Leffler, University of Virginia

Or Rabinowitz, Hebrew University

Protecting the Nuclear Monopoly: The Evolution of Israel's Counter-proliferation Policy

Samuel Helfont, The Naval War College

Development of a Middle Eastern Way of Statecraft

Brandon Friedman, Tel Aviv University

U.S.-Saudi Relations, 1973–2024: An Applied History

Comment: Peter Hahn, The Ohio State University

Panel 2: Roundtable: U.S. Foreign Policy and the Undermining of Democracy

Chair: Kimber Quinney, California State University, San Marcos

Betsy Archelus, Brown University Alan McPherson, Temple University Ben Arthur Thomason, Bowling Green State University

Panel 3: Foreign Policy, Humanitarianism, and the American Century

Chair and Comment: Julia Irwin, Louisiana State University

Emmanuel Destenay, Sorbonne University

Schooling the World: Foreign Children, Humanitarianism, and the Americanization of the World

Branden Little, Weber State University

2/20/2025

Herbert Hoover, Henry Luce, and the Humanitarian Foundations of the "American Century," 1940–46

Michael McGuire, Mount Saint Mary College

Harmful Humanitarians: American Aid Workers, "Inhumane" Activity, and Foreign Relations in the Great War Era, 1917–1922.

Lauren Turek, Trinity College

Appealing to "The Great Plight of the Children" in Foreign Aid Spending Debates

Panel 4: Roundtable: In Living Color: How Scholars of Mixed-Descent Expand Our Understanding of History

Chair: Christy Pichichero, George Mason University

Michelle Moyd, Michigan State University Sabrina Thomas, Texas Tech University Cameron Zinsou, US Army and Command and General Staff College Ashleigh Williams, George Mason University

Panel 5: Belonging not Excluded: National, International and Transnational Women Diplomacy through War and Peace during the 20th Century

Chair and Comment: Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Crystal Brandenburgh, Carnegie Mellon University

Domestic Diplomacy: How Former Suffragists Turned Foreign Policy into a Woman's Job

Diana Cucuz, Toronto Metropolitan University

Female Hostesses in the Heart of Moscow: Selling Citizen Diplomacy and Consumer Culture to Russian Women through the American National Exhibition, 1959

Camelia Lenart, State University of New York at Albany

Belonging, Mending and Expanding Black Cultural Diplomacy beyond the Iron Curtain: Judith Jamison's Tour to Romania in 1977

Panel 6: Roundtable: What do Children Know About Empire?: International Children and Youths as Historical Actors in U.S. Foreign Relations

Chair: Brian Rouleau, Texas A&M University

Robert Diaz, University of Michigan Olivia Anne M. Habana, Ateneo de Manila University Eleanor Eriko Lenoe, Rutgers University Molly Thacker, Georgetown University and Wakefield High School

Panel 7: Soil, Sovereignty, and Security: Exploring Environmental Histories of U.S. Empire

Chair: Frank Gerits, Utrecht University

Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University

The Genre of the Environmental Survey

Dante LaRiccia, Yale University

Oil, Empire, and Anti-Colonial Environmentalism between Puerto Rico and Palau Ian Seavey, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley

Commonwealth of Calamity: Hurricane Santa Clara and the Cold War Politics of Disaster in Puerto Rico

Comment: Dario Fazzi, Leiden University

Panel 8: Global Asias and U.S. Foreign Relations

Chair: Hannah Kim, University of Delaware

Madeline Hsu, University of Maryland Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County Mark Tseng-Putterman, University of Pennsylvania Reanne Zheng, University of Illinois

Panel 9: The Ford Foundation and the Cold War: A Roundtable on Methodological Approaches

Chair: Gregory F. Domber, California Polytechnic State University

Timothy Barney, University of Richmond

The Discourse of Human Rights and the Ford Foundation's Reach into Cold War Central and Eastern Europe

Nicole Sackley, University of Richmond

Mapping the Ford Foundation's Grantmaking in Eastern and Central Europe, 1952–1994

Mark Sidel, University of Wisconsin-Madison

The Ford Foundation in South Vietnam, 1958–1975

Panel 10: SHAFR Beyond the Anglosphere

Co-sponsored by Modern North American History Seminar of Sciences Po Paris and Roosevelt Institute for American Studies, Netherlands Chair: Mario Del Pero, Sciences Po Paris

Participants TBD
Zoom Session

12:50pm-2:20pm Session II

Panel 11: Roundtable: Administering America's Empire: The Bureaucracy of Global Power

Chair: Holger Droessler, Worcester Polytechnic Institute

Alvita Akiboh, Yale University Allison Powers Useche, University of Wisconsin-Madison Jessica Wang, University of British Columbia Kristen Iemma, Max Planck Institute for the History of Science

Panel 12: Thirty Years after Dayton: The History and Legacy of 1990s Interventionism in the Yugoslav Wars

Chair and Comment: Mary Elizabeth Walters, Air Command and Staff College

Jonathan Esty, Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies

Crossing the Unilateralist Rubicon? The Kosovo War, Sino-Russian Opposition, and the Return of Great Power Competition

Charles D. Laubach, The Ohio State University

Showing Resolve: The Use of NATO Air Power in Safe Area Goražde, April 1994 Drew Brozovich, Southern Methodist University

Navigating the Storm: The Croatian Offensive's Role in Clinton's 1995 Endgame Strategy

Panel 13: Imperial Horizons: Law, Sovereignty, and Territoriality in the Antebellum U.S. Global Empire, 1819–1861

Chair and Comment: Gautham Rao, American University

Roger Bailey, The Citadel

"The Appearance of a Recognition": US Naval Intervention in Liberia, 1819–1861 Claire Wolnisty, Austin College

Texas Trade: The International Trade in Enslaved Persons in the Early Nineteenth-Century Western Hemisphere

Michael Verney, Drury University

Cartographic Conflict: The US North Pacific Exploring Expedition, International Law, and Territorial Conflict in Japan, 1853–1855

Panel 14: Transnational Contestations Linking Palestine, Israel, and the USA since 1947

Chair and Comment: Karine Walter, Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, Qatar

Geoffrey Levin, Emory University

A Voice from Palestine in America: Fayez Sayegh and Arab Public Diplomacy, 1948–1980

Arash Azizi, Boston University

Iran's Israel Debate and US-Iranian Relations, 1947–1979

Doug Rossinow, Metro State University

Phases of Hasbara: U.S. Zionists Argue Israel's Cause, 1948–1995 Marjorie Feld, Babson College

"True Jewish Opinion": Jewish Dissent on American Zionism, 1948–1983

Panel 15: Languages, Literacy, and American Power in the Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: David Engerman, Yale University

Valeska Huber, University of Vienna

Teaching the World to Read: Frank C. Laubach and the Each One Teach One Method

Diana Lemberg, University of St. Andrews

The Imperial Multilingualism of Global English

Rachel Applebaum, Tufts University

Cold War in the Classroom: English and Russian Language Teachers in Asian and African Schools

Panel 16: Pasts, Presents, and Futures of Gender History at SHAFR: A Roundtable

Chair: Keisha N. Blain, Brown University

Adriane Lentz-Smith, Duke University Michele L. Louro, Salem State University

Heather Salter, Northeastern University

Kelly J. Shannon, George Washington University

Panel 17: Hidden Histories: Unauthorized Migrations from Europe to the United States in the Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: S. Deborah Kang, University of Virginia

E. Kyle Romero, University of North Florida

Finding the "Most Desirable" Refugee: Russian Refugees in Constantinople and American Humanitarian Migration Networks

Carly Goodman, Rutgers University-Camden

Irish Immigrants in the 1980s: Immigration Narratives, Whiteness, and Diversity Ashley Johnson Bavery, Eastern Michigan University

From Lebanon to Mexico to the Industrial United States: Transnational Muslim Migration Across North America

Panel 18: Greening the Atom: Global Nuclear History and the Environment

Chair and Comment: Toshihiro Higuchi, Georgetown University

Victor McFarland, University of Missouri

Nuclear Fracking and the Cold War

Jennifer Eaglin, The Ohio State University

Environmental Concerns and the Brazil-German Nuclear Agreement of 1975

Joseph Bohling, Portland State University

France's Nuclear Wager: Reshaping Energy Markets in an Age of Non-Proliferation, 1975–1981

Panel 19: Roundtable: Higher-Ed and the Battle against DEI

Sponsored by SHAFR Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE) Chair: Sabrina Thomas, Texas Tech University

Karen Miller, LaGuardia Community College Marc Reyes, University of Connecticut Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University Chris Fischer, The College of New Jersey

2:35pm-4:05pm Session III

Panel 20: Council on Foreign Relations-SHAFR Best/Worst Foreign Relations Decisions in U.S. History

Sponsored by the Council on Foreign Relations
Chairs: Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University and James Lindsay,
Council on Foreign Relations
Members of the Advisory Board TBD

Panel 21: Economists as Diplomats

Chair and Comment: Marc-William Palen, University of Exeter

Sergio Infante, Yale University

"The Cinderella of Underdevelopment": How the Informal Sector Changed Development Thinking

Alessandro Iandolo, University College London

The Soviet State as a "Liberal Subject" in World Trade

Christy Thornton, New York University

"International Murder Foundation": Protest and Reaction at the IMF and World Bank in the 1980s

Panel 22: Cold War Ideals and U.S. Foreign Relations in Latin America: Human Rights, Youth Movements, and Religion

Chair and Comment: Andrew J. Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

Aitor Valdesogo-Álvarez, University of Notre Dame

From Mississippi to Buenos Aires: Patricia Derian and Carter's Human Rights Foreign Policy

Victoria Basulto, University of Notre Dame

A Youth in Crisis: the U.S. and Mexican Right-Wing Youth Movements in the Wake of the Tlatelolco and Corpus Christi Massacres (1968–1971)

Isabella Villarinho Pereyra, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

Family Rosary Crusade and the U.S. Against Communism in Brazil (1962–1964)

Panel 23: Artificial Intelligence (AI) and the Teaching of U.S. Foreign Relations

Sponsored by SHAFR's Teaching Committee

Chair: Molly Wood, Wittenberg University

Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University Justin Hart, Texas Tech University Matthew Masur, St. Anselm College Kelly McFarland, Georgetown University

Comment: Brian Etheridge, Kennesaw State University

Panel 24: Alternative Projects of Power in the Late Cold War

Chair: Sarah Snyder, American University

Comment: Stephen Macekura, Indiana University Bloomington

Emma Orchardson, University of Warwick

"An insignificant ally": Malawi-US partnership in the Cold War

Audrius Rickus, University of Virginia

The French Quest for a Politicized International Monetary System, 1973–1976

Lucas de Souza Martins, Temple University

Emerging Sovereignties: The U.S. Response to Colombia's 1991 Extradition Ban and Regional Trends at the End of the Cold War

Panel 25: Pulling in the Colossus: New Perspectives on U.S. Intervention in Latin America

Chair: Thomas Field, Embry Riddle Aeronautical University

Aaron Coy Moulton, Stephen F. Austin State University

"Don't Worry, They're Still 90 Miles Away:" The US Far Right, Cuban Exiles, and the Monroe Doctrine

Glenn J. Dorn, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University

"Short Tether" or "Walk Together:" Anaconda, Kennecott, the State Department, and the Chilean Nuevo Trato, 1953–1955

Victoria Saeki-Serna, Georgetown University

The Gringo's Growing Fear: The United States and the 1968 Mexican Student Movement

José De Gracia, University of Pittsburgh

"We Do Not Blame Washington but the Government of the Canal Zone": Anti-Imperialism and the Anti-Fascist Struggle in World War II Panama

Comment: Alan McPherson, Temple University

Panel 26: Liberal Imperialism and Its Discontents

Chair and Comment: Anne Foster, Indiana State University

Patrick Chung, University of Maryland

Production, Consumption, and the U.S. Empire of Standards

Yumi Lee, Villanova University

Hardly War: Liberal Empire and Conquest in Cold War Asia

Karen Miller, LaGuardia Community College

Liberal Imperialism and Internal Migration in the Philippines

Naoko Shibusawa, Brown University

Fundamentalists, Terrorists, Bandits: Troublemakers of Empires

Panel 27: Reflections on Historiographies of Nuclear Things on the 80th Anniversary of the Atomic Bombings

Chair: Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow

Toshiro Higuchi, Georgetown University

The Nuclear Anthropocene

Ann-Sophie Levidis, Australian National University

Indigenous Quest for Statehood, Sovereignty, and Environmental Justice in the Atomic Pacific

Elisabeth Röhrlich, University of Vienna

Science Diplomacy in the Nuclear Age

Sonja Schmid, Virginia Tech

Writing the Boundary: On the Historiography of the Civilian/Military Nuclear Divide

Panel 28: From Cold War Liberalism to the Post-Cold War Consensus

Chair and Comment: Christopher R. W. Dietrich, Fordham University

Daniel Bessner, University of Washington

Power in a Time of Emergency Cold War Liberalism in Historical Perspective Laila Ballout, Wichita State University,

Daniel Patrick Moynihan and the Development of the Post-Cold War Order Alistair Hobson, Mississippi State University

The George Shultz Consensus

6:00pm-9:00pm Keynote Address (Maggie Blackhawk) and Welcome Reception at The Spy Museum

Friday, June 27

8:00am-5:00pm Registration 8:00am-5:00pm Book Exhibits

7:30am-8:30am Diplomatic History Board Meeting

8:30am-10:00am Session IV

Panel 29: Workshop: Multi-Pathways Careers Mentorship

Panel 30: New Approaches to Emotions in International and Global History

Chair: Andrew Rotter, Colgate University

Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Between the Emotional and the Moral: Copying Documents Across Borders, 1860s–1970s

Candace Sobers, Carleton University

"A world that is not what it should be": Disappointment and Decolonization in Africa, 1950–1960

Daniel Manulak, University of Toronto

Students Against Apartheid: Moral Emotions and Transnational Student Anti-Apartheid Activism, 1977–1986

Comment: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut

Panel 31: Roundtable: Rhodesia's Unilateral Declaration of Independence: A 60th Anniversary Assessment

Chair: Carl P. Watts, Air University

Josiah Brownell, The Pratt Institute Christopher R. W. Dietrich, Fordham University Eddie Michel, The University of Pretoria R. Joseph Parrott, The Ohio State University

Panel 32: Sovereignty, Humanitarianism, and Diplomacy: U.S.-Baltic Relations after World War I

Chair and Comment: Gregg French, University of Windsor

Piotr Szlaużys, Independent Researcher

Securing Sovereignty: Lithuania's Path to U.S. Recognition on July 28, 1922 Andrew Huebner, University of North Texas Wooten

Double-Sided: The American Relief Operations in Lithuania, 1919–1921 Marika Selga, University of Latvia

Establishing Legal Bases for Cooperation: Challenges and Achievements, the Example of the US-Latvia Relations in the 1920s

Panel 33: Spinning the World: The Public Relations Industry and US Cold War Foreign Relations

Chair and Comment: Justin Hart, Texas Tech University

Andrew Johnstone, University of Leicester

Promoting the World to America: Hill and Knowlton in the Early Cold War

Alex Marino, United States Army War College

Synergizing Business and Politics: James P. Selvage and Cold War Public Relations for Foreign Clients

Kelsey Zavelo, Duke University

Lobbying the Corporation: South African Public Diplomacy, U.S. Public Relations, and the Making of the Pro-South African Business Front

Panel 34: Poisoned Memories: 100 Year Anniversary of the 1925 Geneva Protocol

Chair and Comment: Thomas Faith, Office of the Historian

Aurore Kamichett, University of Montréal

Perception of US Chemical Warfare in French Interwar Newspapers

Christophe Lafaye, University of Burgundy

The limits of the Geneva Protocol: the example of France's chemical war in Algeria (1956–1962)

Asher Orkaby, Harvard University

Violating a Taboo: Egypt, Iraq, and Syria

Panel 35: WTF Moments in 20th and 21st Century Research: Gripes, Complaints, and Possible Paths Forward

Chair: Samantha Taylor, Johns Hopkins University

Marjorie Galelli, Kansas State University Sam Helfont, U.S. Naval War College

Julie Prieto, U.S. Department of State

Kate Tietzen-Wisdom, U.S. Army Center of Military History

Panel 36: Policing Social "Evil": Vice and Morality in U.S. Empire

Chair and Comment: Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simon's Rock University

Graydon Dennison, College of Charleston

Wicked Patriots: Vice and Anti-Yankee Resistance in Occupied Panama, 1912–1927 Eva Payne, University of Mississippi

Prostitution Policy Experiments in the U.S.-Occupied Caribbean Micah Wright, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Responses to Anti-Vice Campaigns under U.S. Occupation, 1912–1924

Panel 37: Roundtable: Capitalist Circuits in the Postwar Pacific: New Historical Perspectives

Chair: Patrick Chung, University of Maryland

Comment: Colleen Woods, University of Maryland

Wen-Qing Ngoei, Singapore Management University Jennifer Miller, Dartmouth College Zach Fredman, Duke Kunshan University

Panel 38: Lightning Round

Chair: TBD

Antonio Carlos Lessa, University of Brasilia

Contested Modernity: The U.S.-Brazil Conflict over Economic Nationalism and Technology Policy, 1975–1995

Andrew Kishuni, Johns Hopkins University

The Fifth Horseman: Interwar Politics, Secret Diplomacy, and the Origins of Chemical and Biological Weapons Policy in the U.S.

Conor D. Hodges, Yale University

Arresting Decolonization: Narcotics, Illicit Finance, and Military Basing in the Cold War West Indies

Bastiaan Bouwman, Utrecht University

Rights and Reconciliation: Christian Humanitarianism, Human Rights, and Expellees in Postwar West Germany

10:15am-11:45am Session V

Panel 39: Roundtable: Multi-Pathways Careers Mentorship

Chair: Christopher McKnight Nichols, Ohio State University

James Goldgeier, American University
James Lindsay, Council on Foreign Relations
James Graham Wilson, U.S. Department of State
Christopher Shell, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace
Tanvi Madan, Brookings Institution

Panel 40: Empire's Unnoticed Agents: Individuals, Institutions, and Power in U.S.-Caribbean Relations, 1869–1940

Chair and Comment: Jason Parker, Texas A&M University

Sabrina Waite, Texas A&M University

The Prized Plum: African American Diplomats in Haiti, 1869–1914

Rosie Click, Georgetown University

Educating Empire: Cuban and Puerto Rican Teachers and the Response to US Imperial Rule, 1898–1902

Zachary Logsdon, Purdue University

Janus Faces of Empire: Civil Society Institutions in the American Colonial State in Puerto Rico, 1910–1940

Panel 41: War, Finance, and Infrastructure in the Nineteenth-Century Gulf Caribbean

Chair: Kristin L. Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

María Angela Díaz, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

What Comes After Southern Empire: The Gulf South and the Transnational Dimensions Reconstruction

Jessica Lepler, University of New Hampshire

From "The Visionary and the Ass" to "Canal Dreamers": Writing the History of the 1820s Quest for an Interoceanic Canal

Kyle Jackson, University of California, Berkeley

The Louisiana Tehuantepec Company: Debt, Diplomacy, and the Infrastructure of Expansion

Comment: Amy S. Greenberg, Penn State University

Panel 42: Visiting Vietnam: The Politics and Diplomacy of Cold War Travel

Chair and Comment: David L. Anderson, California State University, Monterey Bay

Alex Ferguson, University of Sheffield

Cold War Junketeers: VIP Visitors, Operation Eggshell, and the Franco-American Alliance in Vietnam, 1950–54

Lori Maguire, University de Reims Champagne Ardennes

French Visitors to North Vietnam, August 1954–July 1964

Pierre Asselin, San Diego State University

Uncle Ho's Guests: Wartime US Visitors and the Origins of Vietnam War Orthodoxy

Panel 43: Selling Germany to "the American." Tourism Diplomacy and Transatlantic Relations in the (long) 20th Century

Chair: Heather L. Dichter, De Montfort University

Mathias Haeussler, University of Regensburg

"Even the Town Sewer Beautiful!" Imperial Germany's Ill-Fated Quest for Tourists, Dollars, and Recognition

Robert Priest, Royal Holloway University of London

The Oberammergau Passion Players and the Parameters of German-American

Reconciliation, 1922–34

Aimée Plukker, Cornell University

Freedom, Friendship, and Capitalist Circulation: Advertising Berlin during the Cold War

Comment: William G. Gray, Purdue University

Panel 44: Roundtable: Integrating Peace and Justice Values in the Writing and Teaching of U.S. Foreign Policy

Sponsored by the Peace History Society

Chair and Comment: Steven J. Brady, George Washington University

Roger Peace, Independent Scholar

U.S. Foreign Policy History & Resource Guide: Writing methodology

Virginia Williams, Winthrop University

Teaching International Relations and Foreign Policy Analysis in Difficult Times Sahr Conway-Lanz, Swarthmore College

The Swarthmore College Peace Collection and Critical Perspectives on U.S. Foreign Policy

Panel 45: Unilateralism, Multilateralism, and Non-Intervention in US-Latin American Relations

Chair: Renata Keller, University of Nevada, Reno

Juan Pablo Scarfi, The Catholic University of Chile

Revolutionizing Non-intervention: US Unilateral Interventionism and the Reconstruction of the Principle of Non-intervention in the Americas at the time of the Mexican Revolution

Allison Powers, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Meanings of Non-Intervention in the Era of the Pan-American Conferences

Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University

The Cuba Embargo and the Making of Unilateral Sanctions

Comment: Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

Panel 46: The Environment and Worldmaking: How Histories of the Environment Can Help Us Understand the History of International Relations

Chair: Stephen Macekura, Indiana University

Frank Gerits, Utrecht University

Extinction is only coming for Some of Us: How Anticolonial Ideologies framed the Human Environment in the Global North and South (1970s–1980s)

Ruth Morgan, The Australian National University

Rising Seas, Rising Islands: Climate diplomacy at the end of the Cold War

Boyd Ruamcharoen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Weathering Decolonization: Toward a History of Tropical Futures and Tropical Internationalisms

Comment: Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Panel 47: Military Power in Twentieth Century East Asia

Chair and Comment: Zach Fredman, Duke Kunshan University

Shang (Kaho) Yasuda, University of Pennsylvania

Navigating Overlapping Imperial Spaces: Taiwanese Military Veterans and the U.S. Empire, 1930s–1970s

Se Young Jang, University of Vienna

The First North Korean Nuclear Crisis: Quadrilateral Diplomacy between the Two Koreas, the IAEA, and the United States

Esther Hu, Boston University/Harvard University

"Soong Mayling, Public Diplomacy, and US-China Relations, 1937–1945

12:00pm-1:45pm Bernath Lecture (Elisabeth Leake) and Awards

2:00pm-3:30pm Session VI

Panel 48: Roundtable: Discussion with Series Editors of "SHAFR Books"

Chair: Mitch Lerner, Ohio State University

Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University

Cornell's U.S. in World series

Christopher Dietrich, Fordham University

Penn's Power, Politics, and the World series

Julia Irwin, Louisiana State University

UNC's InterConnections series

Ryan Irwin, SUNY Albany

Cambridge's Studies in U.S. Foreign Relations series

Heather Salter, Northeastern University

Cambridge's Global & International History series

Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

Columbia's Global America series

Panel 49: Traditional Military Archives and the Crossover with SHAFR

Sponsored by the Society for Military History
Chair: Kyle Longley, Chapman University

TBD

Panel 50: Roundtable: New Perspectives on Organized Labor and U.S. Foreign Policy

Sponsored by Labor and Working-Class History Association

Chair: Tejasvi Nagaraja, Cornell University

Sean Raming, University of Notre Dame

Salem Elzway, University of Southern California

Reynolds Nelson Hahamovich, University of Michigan

Panel 51: Development and the Politics of Sovereignty, Memory, and Human Rights in the Global South

Chair: Christy Thornton, New York University

Richard Balzano, Simmons University

Charlie Wilson's Other War: Brokering Aid for Oil in the Guatemalan Genocide

Varsha Venkatasubramanian, University of California Berkeley

Dammed and the Damned: The Fight over the Narmada River and the Impact on US-Indo Relations

Ryan Glauser, University of Michigan

Development as Erasure: Reconstruction of the Niger River Delta, the UN, and Nigeria, 1970–1972

Panel 52: Transnational Activism and the Meaning, Politics, and Power of Knowledge

Chair: Penny M. Von Eschen, University of Virginia

Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

The Global Life of Anti-Mining Literature

Kathryn Fapp, University of Oxford

From the Wide Shores of the Pacific: Women's Suffrage Worldmaking and Pacific Internationalisms, 1927-1928

Mora McLean, George Washington University

K-12 African Studies: Challenging What it Meant to 'Know About Africa' and Why it Mattered

Comment: Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Panel 53: Considering Workers and Their Agency: An Approach to Labor and American Foreign Relations in the Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: Tejasvi Nagaraja, Cornell University

Mark Petersen, University of Dallas

Keeping the Lights On: Labor in the Pan American Union in a Precarious Era, 1910–23

Dexter Fergie, University of British Columbia

Labor: A Useful Category of Analysis of Intergovernmental Organizations Jill Jensen, University of Redlands

Women and Work in US Aid: Twenty Years of Women-in-Development Policies, 1973–1993

Panel 54: International Credit, Banking and Commerce: Spanish-American Relations, Transnational Networks and the American Century (1930–1960)

Chair and Comment: Eric Rutkow, University of Central Florida

José A. Montero, Universidad Complutense de Madrid,

Monetary Policy and Transnational Financial Networks: Continuities and Discontinuities in Spanish Attempts to Stabilize the Peseta

Pablo León-Aguinaga, Instituto de Historia, CSIC

A Special Relationship:The 'Dollar-Peseta Program' and Spanish-American Relations (1940s–1960)

Enrique Faes, Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia

The Rivara Case: Capital Flight, Swiss Banking, and the Failure of Spanish Monetary Controls in the 1950s

Panel 55: The Security Sphere and American Society: Service, Security, Accountability, and the Public

Chair and Comment: Mary L. Dudziak, Emory University

Hélène Solot, Université of Paris Nanterre

"A national disgrace?" AWOL and Desertion in the Early Cold War Kaeten Mistry, University of East Anglia

The Tragedy of Secrecy Reform: Accountability and the Growth of State Secrets Shaul Mitelpunkt, University of York

At Ease: How Americans Embraced Freedom from Military Service

Panel 56: Worldwide Right: Transnational Right-Wing Movements, Networks, and Ideas from Postwar to Today

Chair and Comment: Faith Lazar, Yale University

Joel Cabrita, Stanford University

Secret Missions: Evangelical American Missionaries and the CIA's "Secret War" in Laos

Nayanika Ghosh, Harvard University

Sociobiology and the Far Right: Race, Science, and Politics in the U.S. and Europe, 1977–1984

Lotta Mayer, Heidelberg University, and Markus Lang, Heidelberg University Reinventing Nazism: German-U.S. Connections from Postwar to Present

3:45pm-5:15pm Session VII

Panel 57: Footholds of U.S. Hegemony in Cold War Asia

Chair and Comment: Colleen Woods, University of Maryland College Park

Minseok Jang, University at Albany

An Air Force Test Range in the Mudflats: Bombs, Wastes, and Roar, 1951–2004 Syrus Solo Jin, University of Chicago

"How to Get Along with People": Interpersonal Footholds and the Training of US Military Advisors

Michael Masatsugu, Towson University

Buddhism and American Religious "Footholds" in South Asia, 1948–1955

Panel 58: Roundtable: From War to Intervention in the 20th Century

Sponsored by the Society for Military History
Chair: Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Tarak Barkawi, Johns Hopkins University Brian Drohan, United States Military Academy Mary Dudziak, Emory University Tejasvi Nagaraja, Cornell University

Panel 59: FILM: Soundtrack to a Coup d'Etat (2024)

Sponsored by African American Intellectual History Society (AAIHS)

Comment: Kevin Gaines, University of Virginia

Run time 2 hour 30 mins: 30 min discussion at beginning;

film screened at 4:15pm, ends at 6:45-7:00 pm

Panel 60: Revisiting Race, Gender, and Religion in Wars during the Long Twentieth Century: Culture and U.S. Empire

Sponsored by Historians of the Twentieth Century United States (HOTCUS)

Chair: Elizabeth Ingleson, London School of Economics

Fabian Hilfrich, University of Edinburgh

To Annex or Not to Annex: Anti-Imperialists and the Role of Racism in Debating the Philippines

Caleb Woodall, University of Cambridge

Man Enough: Patriotism, Pacifist Masculinities, and the Critique of Martial Manliness in World War II America

Emma Long, University of East Anglia

Evangelicals, Missionaries, and the International Dimension of the Religious Liberty Debate in the Early Cold War

Comment: Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Panel 61: Coercion, Capital, and Security: Negotiating U.S.-Latin American Relations in the 1960s

Chair: Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University

Anthony Guerrero, Temple University

Memory of the Intervention: 1965–1975

Dana Mendes, United States Military Academy

"Uno Para Todos y Todos Para Uno": Security Cooperation and the Inter-American System in the 1960s

Hugo Harvey-Valdés, University of Las Américas

Between Principles and Pragmatism: Latin America's Dilemma Facing U.S. Coercion on the IAPF

Spencer Tompkins, Fordham University

Privatizing Empire: Financing US Industrial Power in Brazil, 1964–1975

Panel 62: The Cold War's Impact on the U.S. South

Sponsored by the Southern Historical Association

Chair: Amy L. Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

Leah Vallely, Calhoun Community College

The Cold War Transformation of Huntsville, Alabama

Jennifer Ross-Nazzal, NASA

Robert R. Gilruth: The Space Race and the American South

Ben Montoya, Schreiner University

"Total Loss, Honorable Defeat:" The American South, Vietnamese

Americans, and the Memory of the Vietnam War

Andrew McKevitt, Louisiana Tech University

Dr. Grady's American Crusade: The Cold War Origins of Gun

Rights Radicalism

Comment: Joseph A. Fry, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Panel 63: Curing the World: American Medical Diplomacy in the mid-Twentieth Century

Chair: Megan Black, MIT

Amanda McVety, Miami University

U.S. Medical Intelligence in WWII

Karine Walther, Georgetown School of Foreign Service, Qatar

The American Clinic: Medical Diplomacy and Saudi Oil, 1945–1949

Julia Irwin, Louisiana State University

The New Great White Fleet: Hospital Ships and U.S. Humanitarian Power in the Cold War Era

Comment: Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Panel 64: Roundtable: U.S. Encounters with the Holocaust

Sponsored by the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies Chair: Kaete O'Connell, Yale University

Brian Crim, University of Lynchburg Patricia Kollander, Florida Atlantic University Anne Rothfeld, Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies Adam Seipp, Texas A&M University

Panel 65: Native Nations and Foreign Relations from the Early Republic through the Civil War

Chair: Elspeth Martini, Montclair State University

Elana Krischer, Marist College

From Defeated Peoples to Sovereign Nation: Remaking Seneca Land Sovereignty after the American Revolution

Zach Conn, Southern Methodist University

The Choctaw and Osage Nations as International Actors Before and After the Louisiana Purchase

Alexandra Stern, The City University of New York, CUNY

Natural Allies in War: Indigenous-Confederate Foreign Relations

5:30pm–7:00pm Plenary: The Day After: Historians' Perspectives on Recent ConflictsSponsored by University of Texas at Austin's Clement Center for National Security
Aaron O'Connell, University of Austin at Texas
TBD

Saturday, June 28

8:00am-2:00pm Registration 8:00am-2:00pm Book Exhibit

8:00am-8:30am Women in SHAFR Breakfast

8:30am-10:00am Session VIII

Panel 66: Roundtable: Worldmaking After Catastrophe: Intimate Histories of the Postwar

Chair: Jennifer Miller, Dartmouth University

Sheyda Jahanbani, University of Kansas Madelyn Lugli, Harvard University

David Milne, University of East Anglia Sarah Snyder, American University

Panel 67: Foreign Influences on Radical Americans on the Right and Left

Chair and Comment: Judy Tzu-Chun Wu, University of California, Irvine

Seth Kershner, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Reading Fanon at Fort Leavenworth: Radical Self-Education and Study Groups in U.S. Military Prisons

Pete Millwood, University of Melbourne

"Death to Teng Hsiao-ping! Long Live Revolution!": American Maoists after Mao Keith Riley, Rutgers University-Camden

Peace or Solidarity?: The Politics of U.S.-Nicaragua Sister Cities During the Contra War

Faith Lazar, Yale University

From Covert Wars to Domestic Militias: The Legacy of Contragate on the 1990s Patriot Movement

Panel 68: Jimmy Carter and American Global Power

Chair and Comment: Jonathan R. Hunt, U.S. Naval War College

Rob Rakove, Stanford University

The Uses of Drought: Aid, Advising, and the Afghan Famine

Sheng Peng, Harvard Kennedy School

Global Response to Carter's China Policy: Unheeded Warnings from Moscow to Washington

Cindy May, University of Cambridge

The Role of the Invasion of Afghanistan and Reputation in President Carter's Handling of the Iran Hostage Crisis: Prioritizing International over Domestic Factors

Panel 69: Fishbowl: The Global Cold War at 20

Chair: Hao Chen, Dartmouth College

Jeffrey James Byrne, University of British Columbia Vivien Chang, Dartmouth College Mattias Fibiger, Harvard Business School Tanya Harmer, London School of Economics Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University Mattie Webb, Yale University

Panel 70: Entangled Empire: New Perspectives on American Soldiers and Military Bases in Post-1945 Europe

Chair and Comment: Petra Goedde, Temple University

François Doppler-Speranza, Université de Lorraine and Dario Fazzi, Leiden University Empire by Negotiation: Normalizing the U.S. Military Presence in Western Europe, 1950-2003

Eirini Karamouzi, The American College of Greece and University of Sheffield
"A Nation at War:" The Greeks and the American Bases in the Late Cold War
Michael B. Limmer, University of Missouri
American Soldiers and Americanization in Postwar Italy

Panel 71: Roundtable: The Family & the World

Sponsored by British Association for Nineteenth Century Historians Chair: Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

David Sim, University College London Abby Mullen, United States Naval Academy Zeynep Gursel, Rutgers University Nora Lessersohn, Georgetown University

Panel 72: Twentieth-Century Transnational Religious Activism

Chair and Comment: Lauren Turek, Trinity University

Debbie Sharnak, Rowan University

The Anti-Defamation League, Jewish Activism, and Argentina's Political Prisoners Brian Mueller, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

A Shield of Love: Witness for Peace, Christian Nonviolence, and Reagan's Undeclared War on Nicaragua

Alexandra Southgate, Temple University

Pilgrimages for Peace: Transnational Quaker Activism and the Religious Roots on Non-Violent Direct Action

Panel 73: Roundtable: U.S. and Indochina During the Vietnam War Era

Chair: Amanda Demmer, Virginia Tech University

Zachary Tayler, Ohio University Robert Green, Ohio University Addison Jensen, Montana State University, Bozeman Gabrielle Westcott, University of Connecticut

Panel 74: Roundtable: Becoming a Moral Force: Peacekeeping, Gender, and Martial Identities in the Shadow of Suez

Chair: Brian Drohan, West Point, US Military Academy

Margot Tudor, City St George's, University of London Ruth Lawlor, Cornell University Nathan Citino, Rice University

10:15am-11:45am Session IX

Panel 75: Moving Parts: Transnational Histories of Industry and Technology

Co-sponsored by the Business History Conference and the Society for the History of Technology

Chair: Mary X. Mitchell, New Jersey Institute of Technology

Sarah Nelson, Leiden University

Purchasing Power: The Chamber of Commerce & American Corporate Power in

Global Telecom Governance Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow

An Anti-Decolonization Bloc: Rössing in Apartheid Namibia

Jessica Levy, Purchase College, SUNY

General Motors Kenya, Automation, and the 1970s U.S. Scramble for Africa

Comment: Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

Panel 76: Fishbowl: The Future of FRUS is You: Pedagogical and Methodological Applications of the Foreign Relations of the United States Series

Sponsored by SHAFR's Teaching Committee

Chair: Chris Hulshof, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Kathryn David, Office of the Historian at the U.S. Department of State

Adam Howard, Office of the Historian at the U.S. Department of State

Brad Morith, Office of the Historian at the U.S. Department of State

Jason Parker, Texas A&M University

Amanda Ross, Office of the Historian at the U.S. Department of State

Panel 77: The Law of the Sea: Sovereignty and Diplomacy in the Johnson, Carter, and Reagan Administrations

Chair and Comment: Sarah Nelson, Leiden University

Michael Stevenson, Lakehead University

"A Yen to Yank Uncle Sam's Bear": The Law of the Sea and US-Canada Relations during the Johnson Administration, 1963–1969

Kathryn C. Lavelle, Case Western Reserve University

The Beginning of the End and the End of the Beginning: Climate, the Arctic, and UNCLOS in the Carter and Reagan Administrations

Grace Easterly, University of Connecticut

"Policeman of the Seas": The 1979 Freedom of Navigation Program and International Law

Panel 78: A Conversation About the Kennedy Center: Art, Memory, and Politics

Stephen Kieran, FIAA, Founding Principal, KieranTimberlake

Fredrik Logevall, Harvard University

Deborah F. Rutter, former President, John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts

Scott Sandage, Carnegie Mellon University

Penny Von Eschen, University of Virginia

Panel 79: Empire, Security, and Militarism in the 'Final Frontier'

Chair and Comment: Aaron M. Bateman, George Washington University

Andrew J. Ross, Georgetown University

Making the American Orbit: Missile and Satellite Tracking Stations and the

Transformation of Global Power

Rebecca Charbonneau, The American Institute of Physics

Fighting Interference: The Intersection of Astronomy and Security in Early VLBI

Haris A. Durrani, Princeton University

"Orchestrating" Spectrum: Cuba, Communications Satellites, and U.S. Empire, 1963

Stephen Buono, University of Chicago

"A Fearful Shot in the Dark": Nuclear Weapons and the Birth of the Space Environment

Panel 80: The Outsourced Style of U.S. Military Empire

Chair: Rebecca Herman, UC Berkeley

AJ Murphy, Brandeis University

Economies of Empire: Debating the U.S. Military's Employment of Foreign National

Civilians in the Cold War

Jonathan Ng, Dartmouth College

Outsourcing the Costs of Empire: The Arms Trade and US Grand Strategy, 1969–

1988

Zaynab Quadri, Yale University

Revolutions in Military Affairs: Private Military Contracting in the 20th Century

Comment: Syrus Solo Jin, University of Chicago

Panel 81: International Affairs: US Histories of Skepticism, Opportunism, and Ambiguity at the Limits of the Nation, 1930s–1990s

Chair and Comment: E. Kyle Romeo, University of North Florida

Andrei Mamolea, Boston University

The Truth about Neutralism in the 1930s and 1940s

Kaitlin Findlay, Cornell University

On the Threshold of the Nation: The Politics and Consequences of International Law in the Incarceration of Japanese Americans, WWII

Sarah R. Meiners, Cornell University

Guam is Not Guantánamo: Negotiating Refugee Rights in an Unincorporated Territory

Panel 82: The End of the Second World War and the Reshaping of American Immigration Policy

Chair: S. Deborah Kang, University of Virginia

Rebecca Erbelding, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

The Fort Ontario Refugees and the Question of Citizenship and Status, 1944–1946 Victoria Gonzalez Maltes, École des hautes études en sciences sociales

"Healthy, muscular laborers": The Making of the Desirable Refugee in the U.S. Displaced Persons Program

Samantha Lanevi, University of Cambridge

From Enemy to "American" Wife: German and Japanese War Brides

Panel 83: The Rise and Fall of the Homosexuality Exclusion Policy in the U.S. Military

Chair and Comment: Jaqueline Whitt, U.S. Department of State/U.S. Army War College

Kellie Wilson-Buford, Arkansas State University

Managing the "Menace" of Homosexuality: The U.S. Army and the Baker Street Vice Scandal of 1918

Natalie Shibley, Yale University

The Vietnam War and the Homosexuality Ban in the U.S. Military

David Fitzgerald, University College Cork

The Campaign for Military Service and the Making of Don't Ask, Don't Tell

12:00pm-1:45pm Presidential Address (Melani McAlister) and Awards Luncheon

2:00pm-3:30pm Session X

Panel 84: Fishbowl: Thinking Otherwise: How Walter LaFeber Explained the History of U.S. Foreign Relations

Sponsored by Cornell University Press

Chair: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut

Susan A. Brewer, University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point Anne Foster, Indiana State University Richard Immerman, Temple University Doug Little, Clark University Lorena Oropeza, University of California, Berkeley

Jessica Wang, University of British Columbia

Panel 85: The Chip War with China and the Consolidation of U.S. Global Economic Power

Chair: Austin Cooper, Purdue University

Cyrus Mody, Maastricht University

A Seat at the High-Tech Table but Not at the UN: Semiconductor Manufacturing and Ambiguous Sovereignty

John Krige, Georgia Tech

Weaponizing Export Controls Extraterritorially to Build a U.S. Empire by Regulation Tracy Gronewold

Extending Regulatory Requirements into Settlement Agreements and License Conditions with Major Technology Companies: Two Case Studies

Comment: Mary X. Mitchell, NJIT-Rutgers Newark

Panel 86: Roundtable: Evaluating the Global War on Terror

Chair: Aaron O'Connell, University of Texas at Austin

Carter Malkasian, Naval Postgraduate School Jason Dempsey, Center for Veteran Transition and Integration at Columbia University Joe Stieb, U.S. Naval War College Zaynab Quadri, Yale University

Panel 87: Manifesting Destinies: Americans' Global Reach in an Age of Expansion

Chair and Comment: Kate M. Burlingham, California State University, Fullerton

Andrew W. Bell, Oberlin College

"They Belonged of Right to Us": John Lloyd Stephens and the Transimperial Scramble for Antiquities

Kate M. Burlingham, California State University, Fullerton

Héli Chatelain and Early 19th Century US Relations with Angola

Anelise Hanson Shrout, Bates College

"Bread in return for cannon balls! Is this not good for evil!": The Irish Famine, the Mexican-American War and American Imperialism

Jamila Moore-Pewu, University of Maryland, College Park

Between Limits and Liminality: Liberia, the United States, and the Paradox of Black Freedom in the 19th Century Atlantic World

Panel 88: Pericentrism in the Middle East

Chair: Paul Thomas Chamberlin, Columbia University

Nada Al-Jamal, Texas A&M University

When the Carrot Fails: Management and Mismanagement of Regional Actors in the Arab-Israeli Wars, 1967–1973

Benjamin V. Allison, University of Texas at Austin, and Carl W. Forsberg, USAF Air War College

An International History of the 1979 Yemeni War

Daniel Chardell, Yale University

To See a World (Order) in a Grain of Sand: The Struggle for Kuwait, 1990–1992

Comment: Nathan Citino, Rice University

Panel 89: Between War and Peace: Toward New Histories of International Security since the Transnational Turn

Chair and Comment: William I. Hitchcock, University of Virginia

Elena Kempf, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Idle Guns: The Forgotten History of Pre-1914 Weapons Prohibitions

Jonathan R. Hunt, U.S. Naval War College

Embattled Water: How the Pacific War Re-forged America's Oceanic Protectorate

Austin Cooper, Purdue University

Peace Walkers: Antinuclear Activism and the Broken Geographies of Nuclear

(In)security

Panel 90: Oil, Dollars, and Atoms. How the 1973 Oil Crisis Reshaped the Political, Commercial, and Financial Relations between the Middle East and the West

Chair: Or Rabinowitz, Hebrew University & Stanford University

Marino Auffant, Atlantic Council's Scowcroft Center for Strategy and Security

Oil for Atoms: The Energy Crisis, Petrodollars, and the Proliferation of Nuclear Technology in the 1970s

Leopoldo Nuti & Giordana Pulcini, University of Roma Tre

Playing with (Nuclear) Fire? Nuclear Relations between Iraq and Italy in the Wake of the 1973 Oil Crisis

Duccio Basosi, Ca' Foscari University of Venice

Petrodollars and Power: Saudi Investments and the Shaping of US Influence in the 1970s

Panel 91: Americans Abroad: What the Biographical Lens Reveals about Citizenship Rights in a Global Context

Sponsored by SMU's Center for Presidential History

Chair: Thomas Knock, Southern Methodist University

Rashida Shafiq, Southern Methodist University

From Toledo to Tamil Nadu: Gloria Steinem, India, and the Cold War, 1957-1959 Matthew Shannon, Emory and Henry University

Global Citizen or Diplomat in Robes? Justice William O. Douglas and the Politics of International Travel

Hannah Stamler, Independent Scholar, Yale University

Phyllis Michaux, the American Association of European Wives, and the Rights of Binational Families in Postwar Europe

Comment: Petra Goedde, Temple University

Panel 92: Roundtable: Reconceptualizing Exceptionalism: Teaching and Learning about American Foreign Relations at Canadian Universities

Chair: Carol Chin, University of Toronto

Gregg French, University of Windsor Candace Sobers, Carleton University Thomas Larkin, University of Prince Edward Island Sarah Jane Corke, University of New Brunswick

3:30pm-4:30pm LaFeber Closing Reception

5:00pm-6:30pm Graduate Student Social