

CONTENTS

Diplomatic History Volume 40, Number 4, September 2016

ARTICLES

- “Captive to the Demonology of the Iranian Mobs”: U.S. Foreign Policy and Perceptions of Shi’a Islam During the Iranian Revolution, 1978-79 579
by Mattin Biglari
- Missionaries and Imperial Cult: Politics of the Shinto Shrine Rites Controversy in Colonial Korea 606
by Dae Young Ryu
- Expatriate Foreign Relations: Britain’s American Community and Transnational Approaches to the U.S. Civil War 635
by Stephen Tuffnell
- Sharing the Burden? The American Solution to the Armenian Question, 1918-1920 664
by Charlie Laderman
- The Spirits of ’76: Diplomacy Commemorating the U.S. Bicentennial in 1976 695
by M. Todd Bennett
- Envisioning Détente: The Johnson Administration and the October 1964 Khrushchev Ouster 722
by Simon Miles
- The Collapse of the Western World: Acheson, Nitze, and the NSC 68/Rearmament Decision 750
by Luke Fletcher
- ### BOOK REVIEWS
- Americans and the Islamic World in the Long Nineteenth Century 777
by Christine Leigh Heyrman
- Bunk? 779
by Thomas W. Zeiler
- JFK’s Not So Forgotten Crisis 782
by Paul M. McGarr
- The Gospel of the Kingdom 786
by Connie Shemo
-

(CONTINUED)

In the Shadows of Mexico's PRI War by Julio E. Moreno	789
Human Rights and the 1970s by Ryan Irwin	791
Latin America's Hot Cultural Cold Wars by Alan McPherson	796
The Invention of Sustainability by Jacob Darwin Hamblin	800
A Human Problem by Osamah F. Kbalil	802
LETTER TO THE EDITOR by David S. Painter	806