

SHA FR 2023

Arlington, VA

Draft Schedule

---

THURSDAY, JUNE 15

10:00-5:00pm	Registration
10:00-5:00pm	Book Exhibit
11:30-1:00pm	Session 1
1:00-1:20pm	Refreshment Break
1:20-2:50pm	Session 2
2:50-3:10pm	Refreshment Break
3:10-4:40pm	Session 3
5:00-8:00pm	Plenary Session & Welcome Reception

FRIDAY, JUNE 16

8:00-4:30pm	Registration
8:00-5:30pm	Book Exhibit
8:00-9:00am	Breakfast
8:30-10:00am	Session 4
10:00-10:20am	Refreshment Break
10:20-11:50am	Session 5
12:00-1:30pm	Presidential Address and Awards Ceremony Luncheon
1:30-3:00pm	Session 6
3:00-3:15pm	Coffee Break
3:15-4:45pm	Session 7
4:45-5:30pm	UPenn Press Reception: Power, Politics, and the World
6pm	Dinner Cruise

SATURDAY, JUNE 17

8:00-12:00pm	Registration
8:00-2:00pm	Book Exhibit
8:00-9:00am	Breakfast
8:00-9:00am	Book Proposal Workshop Breakfast (RSVP)
8:00-9:00am	Off the Tenure Track Mentorship Breakfast (RSVP)
9:00-10:30am	Session 8
10:30-10:50am	Refreshment Break
10:50-12:20pm	Session 9
12:30-2:00pm	Keynote Address Luncheon
4:05pm	Nationals Baseball Game

THURSDAY, JUNE 15

Thursday, June 15, 11:30am–1:00pm: Session I

Panel 1: Middle Eastern Actors and the Making of the Global Cold War

Chair: Gregory Brew, Yale University

Comment: Alex Hobson, U.S. Naval War College

Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet, University of Pennsylvania

From Angela Davis to Andy Warhol: Art, Sex, and Race in U.S.-Iran Relations

Arash Azizi, New York University

Cold War from Below: Iranian and Iraqi Communists in Labor Strikes of 1946

Robert Steele, London School of Economics and Political Science, United Kingdom

Iran's Role in U.K.-U.S. Diplomacy in Southern Africa (1977–79)

Panel 2: Diplomatic History from the Inside Out

Chair and Comment: Justin Hart, Texas Tech University

Samantha Payne, College of Charleston

Projecting Black Power: African Americans, Afro-Cubans, and the Struggle for Interracial Democracy in Two Republics, 1865–1873

Natalie Mendoza, University of Colorado, Boulder

Good Neighbor at Home: The Mexican American Fight for Equality in the World War II Era

Chris Suh, Emory University

Between Korea and America: Korean Americans and U.S. Occupation of South Korea, 1945–1948

Panel 3: Hegemony, Dependence, and Resistance: Global Approaches to Development

Chair: Christy Thornton, Johns Hopkins University

Comment: Vanessa Walker, Amherst College

Alessandro Iandolo, University College London, United Kingdom

Cultural Cringe in Economics: Backwardness and Dependency in the Soviet Union and Latin America

Varsha Venkatasubramanian, University of California, Berkeley

Damned and the Dammed: Environmental Activism, the World Bank, and a Rejection of Western Development

Pete Millwood, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Abandoning and Resurrecting “Self-Reliance”: China’s Acceptance and Resistance of Dependency, Then and Now

Panel 4: Indigenous Communities and New Histories of the U.S. and the World

Chair: Amy Offner, University of Pennsylvania

Comment: Raquel Escobar, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

David Kerry, Yale University

Globalizing Federal Indian Policy: The Institute of Ethnic Affairs and American Foreign Development

Dante LaRiccía, Yale University

Solar Technology and Village Development Between the Two Fourth Worlds

Kabl Wilkerson, Harvard University

The Strength of the People: Blood, Citizenship, and the Reconfiguration of Federal Power in Indian Country

Panel 5: Playing Chess from His Desk: Presidential Policies in the Late Cold War

Chair and Comment: Susan Colbourn, Duke University

Nada Al-Jamal, Texas A&M University

Divine Graduate Student Grant

Vietnam in the Middle East: The Politics of Conflict during the Global Cold War

Bradford Morith, Office of the Historian, U.S. Department of State

Bonn, Berlin, Brussels, Baker, and Bush: Economic Reform and Integration in Europe Before the Fall of the Berlin Wall

Daniel Chardell, Harvard University

Multilateral Laboratory: The Iraq Sanctions Experiment and the Birth Pangs of a New World Order

Panel 6: Circuits of Soft Power: Culture, Sport, Tourism, and Performance

Chair and Comment: Penny Von Eschen, University of Virginia

Eric Rutkow, University of Central Florida

Chasing Nellie Bly: The American Tourist and Speed Circumnavigation in the Steam Age

Nora Lessersohn, University College London, United Kingdom

The Sultan of New York: Entertainment, Politics, and U.S.-Ottoman Relations (1818–1895)

Michael E. McGuire, Mount Saint Mary College

A Goodwill Tour? The American Good Will Association and 1920s Transatlantic Amity

Panel 7: Human Rights, Sovereignty, and Counterinsurgency

Chair and Comment: Chris Nitschke, German Historical Institute, Washington, DC

Kevin S. Robb, Australian National University, Australia

“Obviously We Are Not on the Eve of a Breakthrough on the Human Rights Front”: The Early Years of the Carter Administration’s Human Rights Policy in South Korea, January 1977–October 1979

Zaynab Quadri, The Ohio State University

Host/age Nations: Counterinsurgency and the Legacies of Empire in the Iraq and Afghanistan Wars

Samuel Rogers, University of Kansas

“If We Don’t Do It, It Is Not Going to Get Done”: Congress, Human Rights, and American Human Trafficking Policy in the Clinton Administration

Panel 8: New Directions in the Study of Policing and Empire (I): Policy Entrepreneurs and Private Actors

Chair and Comment: Stuart Schrader, Johns Hopkins University

Kate Birkbeck, Yale University

Policing the Empire: White Militia in Hawai'i from the Honolulu Rifles to the National Guard of Hawaii, 1883–1903

Jeff Lamson, Northeastern University

Corporate-State Entanglements: Exploring the Role of Private Actors in Policing and Empire

Wes Attewell, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Fast Development, Slow Violence: The Transnational Afterlives of Broken Windows

Panel 9: Accumulation Through Crisis: The Political Economy of the U.S. Empire in the Cold War

Chair and Comment: Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Jonathan Ng, Southern Methodist University

Violence and People Power: The Arms Trade and Nixon Doctrine in Chile, 1970–1973

Mattie Webb, University of California, Santa Barbara

Beyond the Workplace: The Coalition of Black Trade Unionists and Shared Worker

Internationalism

Andrew Hedden, University of Washington

Empire in Need: Seattle and the U.S. Federal Government in the 1970s

Alex Marino, United States Army War College

“Build a lot and quickly”: The American Airfield, Sports, and the Politics of Development in the Belgian Congo, 1942–1960

Thursday, June 15, 1:00pm–1:20pm: Refreshment Break

Thursday, June 15, 1:20pm–2:50pm: Session II

Panel 10: The United States and Trans-imperial Power in the Pacific

Chair and Comment: Sarah Nelson, Leiden University, Netherlands

Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

Imperial Vision to Transimperial Integration: The Case of Pacific Mail

Yi Feng, Princeton University

Pacific Integrated: Oceanic Geopolitics and the Inter-Imperial Production of U.S.-Japan Undersea Cables, 1903–1905

Tamson Pietsch, University of Technology Sydney, Australia

Geographies of Interwar America in the Asia-Pacific: The Floating University

Panel 11: Nation? Empire? Democracy?: Negotiating American Identity in the Aftermath of the Spanish-American War and Beyond

Chair and Comment: Jason Parker, Texas A&M University

Bonnie M. Miller, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Popular Investment in War and Empire: The Media Campaigns of the Spanish-American War of 1898

Paul McCartney, Towson University

We Hold These Truths: The Imperial Construction of the Declaration of Independence

Fabian Hilfrich, University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom

Wars, Anti-war Protest, and the End of American Civilization: The Cases of Charles Francis Adams, Jr. and George F. Kennan

Panel 12: Roundtable: Hail to the Chief: A Tribute to George Herring, 1936–2022

Chair: Andrew L. Johns, Brigham Young University

David Anderson, California State University, Monterey Bay

Beth Bailey, University of Kansas

Robert Brigham, Vassar College

Richard H. Immerman, Temple University

Kyle Longley, Chapman University

Lien-Hang Nguyen, Columbia University

Kara Dixon Vuic, Texas Christian University

Panel 13: Refugees, Migrants, and the Making of U.S. Foreign Policy

Chair and Comment: David Mayers, Boston University

Andrew Klein, University of California, Los Angeles

Capitalizing on the Coastline: Chinese Migrants, Environmental Conflicts, and the Circuits of Empire in Nineteenth-Century Oakland

Amy Fedeski, Queen's University, Canada

Migration Policy Activists and the Ratification of the 1967 Protocol on the Status of Refugees

Patrick C. Leech, Baylor University

Divine Graduate Student Grant

Üdvözöljük az Egyesült Államokban: A Hungarian Diaspora Response to the Hungarian Refugee Crisis, 1956–1957

Panel 14: The Second World War and Christian Missions in Asia

Chair and Comment: Raymond Haberski, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI)

Sopanit Angsusingha (Dede), Georgetown University

Making the American School “Iraqi”: Jesuit- Iraqi Encounters in Baghdad College during the Second World War

Matthew Shannon, Emory and Henry College

The Second World War and the Reconfiguration of American “Mission” in Iran

Hannah Kim, University of Delaware

The Contradictions of Political Independence and Ecclesiastical Extraterritoriality: World War II and the Korea Mission

Panel 15: New Directions in the Study of Policing and Empire (II): Tactics and Techniques

Chair and Comment: Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

Matthew Guariglia, Electronic Frontier Foundation, UC Law-San Francisco

The Colonial Laboratories of Surveillance Policing

Brendan Hornbostel, George Washington University

The “Friendly Enemy”: The Development of Counterinsurgent Policing During the 1932 Bonus March

Conor Hodges, Yale University and Steven Cohen, Yale University

As Organized as Organized Crime: The Rise of Interagency and International “Coordination” in Reagan’s War on Drugs

Panel 16: Roundtable: SHAFR and Presidential History: An Assessment

Sponsored by the Center for Presidential History at Southern Methodist University

Chair: Jonathan Ng, Southern Methodist University

Kaete O'Connell, Yale University
LaiYee Leong, Southern Methodist University
Ashlyn Hand, Southern Methodist University
Paul Behringer, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Panel 17: Expanding Utopias: Centering Latin America in Human Rights History

Chair and Comment: Karin Roseblatt, University of Maryland

Claudio Barrientos, Universidad Diego Portales, Chile
Human Rights, Social Rights, and AIDS Debates in Chile and Latin America, 1990–2002
Debbie Sharnak, Rowan University
Afro-Uruguayan Memory and Mobilization
Vanessa Walker, Amherst College
Ideological Diversity and Vital Human Needs: Putting Social and Economic Rights on the Agenda

Thursday, June 15, 2:50pm–3:10pm: Refreshment Break

Sponsored by African & African American Studies, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Thursday, June 15, 3:10pm–4:40pm: Session III

Panel 18: Roundtable: Energy Insecurity: The 1973 Oil Crisis at 50

Co-Chair: Carl Forsberg, Air War College
Co-Chair: David S. Painter, Georgetown University

Ellen R. Wald, Atlantic Council
Victor McFarland, University of Missouri
Emily Meierding, Naval Postgraduate School

Panel 19: Receiving the Cold Shoulder? The Historical Importance of the Often Neglected Cultural Diplomacy, Gender, and Economics during the Cold War

Chair and Comment: Thomas C. Field, Jr., Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University

Camelia Lenart, University at Albany - SUNY
Among the Firsts: Eleanor Roosevelt, Bess Truman, and the First Steps of American Cultural Diplomacy in Europe
Diana Cucuz, University of Toronto, Canada
Global and Diversity Scholar Grant
Winning Women's Hearts and Minds: Selling Cold War Cultural Diplomacy in Russia through Amerika Magazine and the American National Exhibition
Andres Sanchez-Padilla, Centro Universitario de la Defensa de Zaragoza, Spain
Books for the Huddled Masses: U.S. Textbook Programs on Development and Latin American Modernization (1957–1967)

Panel 20: Working in a World of Mirrors: The Impact of Disinformation on the Conduct of Diplomacy

Chair and Comment: Simon Miles, Duke University

Anthony Crain, Office of the Secretary of Defense

The Carter Doctrine versus Helmut Schmidt's Divisible Détente: Divergent Reactions to the Soviet Invasion of Afghanistan, 1979–1980

Carolyn V. Davidson, National Defense University

Operation Allied Force: How NATO's 1999 bombing of Kosovo Ignited Disinformation in the Post-Cold War Era

David P. Hadley, National Defense University

After the "Year of Intelligence": The Challenges of Diplomacy in the Aftermath of Intelligence Revelations

Panel 21: World Organization in an Age of Polycrisis: Revisiting the History of the Creation of the United Nations

Chair and Comment: Francine McKenzie, University of Western Ontario, Canada

Debasish Roy Chowdhury, Independent Scholar

Global and Diversity Scholar Grant

Arrested Development: Great Power Competition, India's Half-Baked Democracy, and World Organization

Trygve Throntveit, Minnesota Humanities Center and Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars

Quincy Wright and the Wilsonian Alternative to Globalism

Tiziana Stella, The Streit Council

Contending Boundaries of the "Politically Possible": The Role and Legacy of the Federal Union Movement in Defining the Choice on World Organization

Panel 22: Roundtable: Locating the Protestant Establishment in Twentieth-Century American Foreign Relations

Chair: Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom

Mark Edwards, Spring Arbor University

Matt Hedstrom, University of Virginia

Lauren Turek, Trinity University

John Wilsey, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary

Panel 23: Nuclear Northeast Asia and the United States

Chair and Comment: William Burr, National Security Archive, George Washington University

Fintan Hoey, Franklin University, Switzerland

Nuclear Networks: Imai Ryukichi and U.S.-Japanese Relations

Kazushi Minami, Osaka University, Japan

China's Bomb as a Moral Weapon against the United States

Se Young Jang, Leiden University, Netherlands

Quadrilateral Nuclear Diplomacy: U.S. and Canadian Responses to South Korea's Reprocessing Deal with France in the mid-1970s

Steffen Rimner, University College Dublin, Ireland

Alignment after Divorce: Revisiting Taiwan's Nuclear Capability Diplomacy in a Global Context, 1960s–1970s

Panel 24: Hands Across the “Black Atlantic”? Studies in U.S.-Africa Relations

Chair and Comment: Abou Bamba, Gettysburg College

Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

“The Delgoa Bay Trouble”: The United States and Transimperial Legal Entanglements in Colonial Africa

Sam Klug, Loyola University Maryland

Facing the Neocolonial Future: African American Internationalism and Development Politics

Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University

“Qualified Support for Self-Determination”: Establishing Liberty in Africa, from Lend-Lease to the International Cooperation Administration

Margaret Gregory, Texas A&M University

Dixieland and Decolonization: South Africa, The American South, and the Global Civil Rights Movement

Panel 25: Americans Abroad: U.S. Expatriates and Foreign Relations, 1940–1960

Chair and Comment: Tamson Pietsch, University of Technology Sydney, Australia

Sarah B. Snyder, American University

American Expatriates in Rome and Athens: The Wartime Experiences of Civilians Far from the Homefront

Karine V. Walther, Georgetown University in Qatar, Qatar

American Expatriates, ARAMCO, and Anti-Zionist Activism

Kelly Shannon, Florida Atlantic University

Nilla Cram Cook: An American Feminist in Iran

Panel 26: History, Memory, and Geopolitics—How the Legacy of World War II Shapes National Narratives in the 21st Century

Chair and Comment: William Hitchcock, University of Virginia

Emily Matson, American University

Longer War, Stronger Legitimacy: How the Chinese Communist Party Redefined the War of Resistance against Japan to Bolster Its Right to Rule

Katie Stallard, New Statesman

Who Controls the Past Controls the Future: How the Leaders of Russia and China Exploit the Memory of Past Wars to Serve Their Contemporary Political Needs

Edward Howell, Oxford University, United Kingdom

When the Past Is Still Present: The Two Koreas and the Legacy of Japanese Colonial Rule

5:00pm–6:30pm: Plenary

Declassification, Records Management, and Access: Updates from the Trenches

Chair: Julia Irwin, University of South Florida

Richard H. Immerman, Temple University

Warren Kimball, Rutgers University

Luke Nichter, Chapman University

Meg Phillips, National Archives and Records Administration

6:30pm–8:00pm: Welcome Reception

Co-sponsored by Brill Publishing and The Center for the Study of Force and Diplomacy at Temple University

FRIDAY, JUNE 16

Friday, June 16, 8:00am–9:00am: Breakfast

Sponsored by the Committee of Women in SHAFR

Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Advocating for Women in the Historical Profession: A Transatlantic Perspective

Friday, June 16, 8:30am–10:00am: Session IV

Panel 27: Intelligence in Foreign Relations - Does It Matter?: A Roundtable in Honor of Robert L. Jervis

Chair: Richard H. Immerman, Temple University

Thomas A. Schwartz, Vanderbilt University

Thomas Boghardt, U.S. Army Center of Military History

David Robarge, Central Intelligence Agency

Genevieve Lester, U.S. Army War College

Panel 28: Intimate Encounters and U.S. Military Power in the 20th Century Pacific

Chair: Zach Fredman, Duke Kunshan University, China

Comment: Joy Sales, California State University, Los Angeles

Syrus Jin, University of Chicago

Studying Abroad in America: The U.S. Military Effort to Shape the Officer Corps of Asia

Ruth Lawlor, Cornell University

Military Reconnaissance, Imperial Governance: Alaska and the U.S. Army

Lopaka O'Connor, University of Michigan

Proving Ground: Anthropologies of Place and Displacement in the Nuclear Pacific, 1947–1958

Panel 29: Uneven Globalization(s) and New Histories of U.S. Power (I)

Chair and Comment: Tanvi Madan, Brookings Institution

Lynda Kellam, University of North Carolina, Greensboro

Race and Root's Record: Documenting American Atrocities in the Philippines

Wystan de la Peña, University of the Philippines Diliman, Philippines

Global and Diversity Scholar Grant

Defending Democracy and Pursuing the Disastrous American Dream in the Fil-Hispanic Novel

La Oveja De Nathan (1928)

Karen Miller, LaGuardia Community College

Resisting Land Grabbing in the Depression-Era Southern Philippines

Panel 30: The Asian Pacific and U.S. Foreign Policy during the Long Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: Paul Behringer, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Giuseppe Paparella, William & Mary

Economic Nationalism and the Origins of American Expansion in the Asia-Pacific, 1898–1905

Waqar Zaidi, Lahore University of Management Sciences, Pakistan

Pan American Technical Assistance and the Globalization of Civil Aviation in Asia, 1955–68

Midori Yoshii, Albion College

Maintaining a Facade: Reagan's Taiwan Policy

Brandon Willadsen, Texas A&M University

Democracy Promotion and Neoconservatism: The Blue Team's Foreign Policy Proposals on Taiwan

Panel 31: Roundtable: The United States/Israel/Palestine: The State of the Field

Chair: Karine V. Walther, Georgetown University in Qatar, Qatar

Doug Rossinow, Metropolitan State University

Sara Camille Awartani, University of Michigan

Walter L. Hixson, University of Akron

Osamah F. Khalili, Syracuse University

Panel 32: Tricontinental Revolution: The Ambitions and Limits of Third World Radicalism in the 1960s

Chair and Comment: Michelle Paranzino, U.S. Naval War College

R. Joseph Parrott, The Ohio State University

Brother and a Comrade: Amílcar Cabral as Global Revolutionary

Jeffrey James Byrne, University of British Columbia, Canada

The Romance of Revolutionary Transatlanticism: Cuban-Algerian Relations and the Diverging

Trends within Third World Internationalism

Pierre Asselin, San Diego State University

Fueling the World Revolution: Vietnamese Communist Internationalism, 1954–1975

Sarah J. Seidman, Museum of the City of New York

The Material Culture of Tricontinentalism

Panel 33: Transnational Political Movements and Late 20th Century Capitalism

Chair: Sarah B. Snyder, American University

Comment: Augusta Lynn Dell'Omo, Southern Methodist University

Addison Jensen, University of California, Santa Barbara

Consciousness-Raising in the 'Nam: American Women as Purveyors of Information During the Vietnam War

Jessica Levy, Purchase College, State University of New York

U.S. Corporations, Anti-Apartheid, and the Political Economy of Divestment

Nicole Sackley, University of Richmond

Solidarity Coffee: Development as Resistance in the Central American Wars

Panel 34: Roundtable: The Early Imperial Republic

Chair: Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Michael Blaakman, Princeton University

Amy S. Greenberg, Pennsylvania State University
Nicholas Guyatt, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom
Jeffrey Ludwig, Seward House Museum

Friday, June 16, 10:00am–10:20am: Refreshment Break

Sponsored by Nineteenth-Century Studies, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Friday, June 16, 10:20am–11:50am: Session V

Panel 35: Roundtable: Is Expansion the Organizing Narrative of U.S. Foreign Relations?

Chair: Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Brooke Blower, Boston University
Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University
Ryan Irwin, University at Albany - SUNY
Kariann Yokota, University of Colorado, Denver

Panel 36: Conservatives, Anti-left Right Politics, and the Global South

Chair and Comment: Catherine Forslund, Rockford University

Joseph Scalice, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore
    “To the hilt”: The Nixon administration’s Role in Ferdinand Marcos’s 1972 Declaration of Martial Law in the Philippines
Brandan P. Buck, George Mason University
    A Fortress America for the Cold War: The Isolationist Right after 1945
Jared Pack, University of Mississippi
    Lyndon Johnson and the Challenge of Chilean Socialism

Panel 37: Lightning Round: Understanding and Teaching Contemporary U.S. History since Reagan

Chair: Amy Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

Kate English, Educators’ Institute for Human Rights
Hal Friedman, Henry Ford College
Kathryn Kohn McLain, Montana State University, Bozeman
Benjamin Montoya, Schreiner University
Leah Vallely, Calhoun College

Panel 38: Roundtable: Uneven Globalization(s) and New Histories of U.S. Power (II)

Chair: Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

Lewis DeFrates, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom
Sam Lebovic, George Mason University
Sarah Miller-Davenport, Columbia University
Sarah Nelson, Leiden University, Netherlands

Panel 39: American Women and U.S. Policy in Africa, 1890–1960

Chair and Comment: Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Nathan Cardon, University of Birmingham, United Kingdom
Fanny Bullock Workman and American Transimperial Mobility in North Africa
Stacy E. Holden, Purdue University
Edith Wharton's Morocco: How a Gilded Age Novelist Shaped U.S. Foreign Policy
Brandy Thomas Wells, Oklahoma State University
"Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World": Flemma P. Kittrell, Home Economics, and American Foreign Policy
Shaun Armstead, Rutgers University
"We in the western world should have a vital interest in Africa": Dorothy Ferebee's 1960 Visit to Africa

Panel 40: The Great War and Peacemaking

Chair and Comment: Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University, United Kingdom

Adam Pontius, Bayside Strategies
Which Wilson? Anti-imperialism, Race, and Sovereignty at the Paris Peace Negotiations
Andrew Huebner, University of North Texas
The Baltic Bedlam: War, Food, and International Recognition in the Baltic States, 1917–1923
Scott Malcomson, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom
Whatever Happened to "Self-Determination"? The Disappearance of a Policy from the League of Nations Covenant, Jan.–Feb. 1919
Daniel Larsen, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom
What Kind of Peace? American Peace Diplomacy and Germany in Late 1916

Panel 41: Roundtable: The Greatest Humanitarian of Them All? The U.S. Military in a World of Crises

Chair: Adam Seipp, Texas A&M University

Brian Drohan, U.S. Military Academy at West Point
Julia Irwin, University of South Florida
Elisabeth Piller, University of Freiburg, Germany
Mary Elizabeth Walters, Air Command and Staff College

Panel 42: China Perceived: Foreign Images of a Changing China

Chair: Pete Millwood, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Comment: Priscilla Roberts, University of Macau, China

Jeffrey Crean, Tyler Junior College
When He Wakes: The Propagation and Persistence of China as a "Sleeping Giant"
Tao Chen, Tongji University, China
Otto Wolff von Amerongen's trip to China and the 1957 West German-Chinese Trade Agreement
Keisha Brown, Tennessee State University
Global and Diversity Scholar Grant
China Perceived: Blackness and Asian Studies
Zach Fredman, Duke Kunshan University, China
The Tormented Alliance: American Servicemen and the Occupation of China

Panel 43: Roundtable: Reflections on Two Decades of Literature on Transnational Social Movements of the U.S. and the World

Chair: Russell Rickford, Cornell University

Stephanie Freeman, Mississippi State University
Jennifer Mittelstadt, Rutgers University
Tej Nagaraja, Cornell University

Panel 44: Roundtable: Kissinger at 100

Chair: Carolyn Eisenberg, Hofstra University

Robert Brigham, Vassar College
Thomas A. Schwartz, Vanderbilt University
Kai Hebel, Leiden University, Netherlands
Barbara Keys, Durham University, United Kingdom

12:00pm–1:30pm: SHAFR Presidential Address and Awards Ceremony

Luncheon

Sponsored by Kent State University College of Arts and Sciences

Mary Ann Heiss, Kent State University

Presidential Cold War Doctrines, What Are They Good For?

Friday, June 16, 1:30pm–3:00pm: Session VI

Panel 45: Roundtable: Where Does Kennan Fit in Today's World?

Chair: Ryan Irwin, University at Albany - SUNY

Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut
Susan Colbourn, Duke University
Petra Goedde, Temple University
Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University

Panel 46: Global Biographies

Chair and Comment: Brooke Blower, Boston University

Anna Mazurkiewicz, University of Gdańsk, Poland
On the Train from Moscow to Warsaw with William J. Tonesk, July 1945
Victoria Phillips, Oxford University, United Kingdom
Ambassadors for God and the United States: Missionary Memoirs, Journals, Autobiographies, and the Foster-Dulles Women as Diplomatic Emissaries, 1832–1980
David Milne, University of East Anglia, United Kingdom
Sigrid Schultz, the Chicago Tribune, and the Third Reich

Panel 47: Roundtable: Beyond 1945: War to Postwar, Colonial to Postcolonial

Chair: Ruth Lawlor, Cornell University

Andrew Buchanan, University of Vermont
Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University
Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow, United Kingdom
Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Panel 48: Southeast Asia and the World: Considering the Transnational Visions and Agency of Southeast Asians after 1945

Chair: Shawn McHale, George Washington University

Comment: Anne L. Foster, Indiana State University

Yi Ning Chang, Harvard University

Political Founding after Anticolonialism: Rural Development and Self-Reliance in 1960s Malaya

Darlene Machell Espena, Singapore Management University, Singapore

Corporeal Diplomacy: Cambodia's Celestial Dancers in the West, 1953–1970

Wen-Qing Ngoei, Singapore Management University, Singapore

Singapore's Neutral Pax Americana and the Southeast Asian Regional Order

Panel 49: Global Circulations of the Far-Right in the 20th Century

Chair and Comment: Kyle Burke, Hartwick College

Olivier Burtin, Université de Picardie Jules Verne Amiens, France

The International Ties of The U.S. Far-Right in the Interwar Period

Austin J. Clements, Stanford University

American Religion, Global Revolution, and The Protocols of the Elders of Zion

Anna Duensing, University of Virginia

White Nationalism, Black Power, and the Battle over Rhodesia

David Austin Walsh, University of Virginia

Personne n'ose l'appeler trahison: The Algerian War and the John Birch Society

Panel 50: The Anticolonial Transnational: Imaginaries, Mobilities, and Networks in the Struggle against Empire

Chair: Erez Manela, Harvard University

Comment: Heather Streets-Salter, Northeastern University

Zaib un Nisa Aziz, University of South Florida

All Empires Must Fall: International Proletarian Revolution and the Anti-Colonial Cause in British India

Ruodi Duan, Haverford College

African Nationalism, Colonial Afterlives, and the Development of China-Tanzanian Relations, 1960–1966

Vivien Chang, Yale University

Beyond the NIEO: The Rise of Self-Reliance as an Alternative Vision of Postcolonial Development

Panel 51: International Organizations and American Actors - Shock of the Global 70s

Chair and Comment: Nicole Sackley, University of Richmond

Nicholas Cohen, University of California, Santa Barbara

Divine Graduate Student Grant

Forging an International Backstop: Commercial Banking, Foreign Policy, and the Empowerment of the IMF, 1973–1981

Margaret Gnoinska, Troy University

O Canada!: Washington's Search for a New Partner for the International Commission for Control and Supervision in Vietnam following the 1973 Paris Peace Accords

Cody Foster, Indiana University Southeast

“It Could Hurt Us A Good Deal”: Reevaluating The Johnson Administration’s Response to War Crimes Accusations During the Vietnam War, 1966–1967

Panel 52: Roundtable: A Tribute to Professor Martin J. Sherwin (1937–2021)

Co-Chair: Philip Nash, Penn State Shenango

Co-Chair: James G. Hershberg, George Washington University

Hans Fenstermacher, Language Industry Executive, Strategist, and Advocate

Tanya Gassel, Tufts University

Gerry Gendlin, Pennsylvania Western University

Panel 53: “With Friends Like This, Who Needs Enemies”: The United States, Alliance Politics, and the Wars for Vietnam

Chair and Comment: Steven Brady, George Washington University

Alex Ferguson, University of Sheffield, United Kingdom

Diplomatic Spouses in Saigon: Louise Heath, Franco-American Relations, and the First Indochina War, 1950–54

Lori Maguire, Université de Picardie Jules Verne Amiens, France

Triangular Francs, Triangular Relations, Triangular Tensions: The U.S., France, and South Vietnam during the Eisenhower Administration

Ryan Singsank, Columbia University

From Resolute Support to Reluctant Solidarity: West Germany and the U.S. Escalation of the Vietnam War, 1965–68

Friday, June 16, 3:00pm–3:15pm: Coffee Break

Friday, June 16, 3:15p–4:45pm: Session VII

Panel 54: Roundtable: Carolyn Eisenberg’s *Fire and Rain: Nixon, Kissinger, and the Wars in Southeast Asia

Chair: Michael Brenes, Yale University

Amanda Boczar, University of South Florida

Jeremi Suri, University of Texas at Austin

Carolyn Eisenberg, Hofstra University

Panel 55: Environmental Activism Across Borders

Chair and Comment: Blair Woodard, University of Portland

Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Friends of the Earth’s Transnational Fight against Large-Scale Mining

Rebecca Herman, University of California, Berkeley

Greenpeace Argentina: A “First Step to the South”

Elizabeth Schwall, Northern Arizona University

Chico Mendes: Martyr and Catalyst

Jason Colby, University of Victoria, Canada

Turning Whales into Salt: The International Battle to Save the Gray Whale Lagoons of Baja

Panel 56: Roundtable: New Concepts in Diplomatic History: U.S. Empire and Racial Capitalist Modernity

Chair: Anne L. Foster, Indiana State University

Naoko Shibusawa, Brown University

Alvita Akiboh, Yale University

Genevieve Clutario, Wellesley College

Colleen Woods, University of Maryland, College Park

Panel 57: U.S. Sovereignty and the Foreign Policy of Early America

Chair and Comment: Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University

Madeline Thompson, Austin Peay State University

Making the Enemy Favorable: Allies, Enemies, Mercenaries, and Traitors in the American Revolution

Kevin Arlyck, Georgetown University

The Federal Courts and American Sovereignty in the Age of Revolution

Maeda K. Ali, University of Kentucky

Conflict and Competition, and Cooperation: Perspective of the American-British Relationship until 1812

Chris Nitschke, German Historical Institute, Washington, DC

The Credit Imperative: Transatlantic Financial Reconstruction in the Civil War Era

Panel 58: War and Pop Culture in the Reagan Era

Chair: Alan McPherson, Temple University

Comment: Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University

Michelle D. Paranzino, U.S. Naval War College

The Dystopian World of Red Dawn

Nicholas Evan Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College

Tom Clancy and His Friends: The World War III Literature of the 1980s

Augusta Lynn Dell'Omo, Southern Methodist University/Princeton University

“Good” Afrikaners and “Color-Blind American”—Lethal Weapon 2 and Race in the Reagan Era

Grace Easterly, University of Connecticut

“Checkpoint for Freedom”: The Reagan Administration’s Persian Gulf Policy during the Tanker War

Panel 59: Conservatism, Militarism, and 20th Century Ideological Networks

Chair: Lauren Frances Turek, Trinity University

Comment: R. Joseph Parrott, The Ohio State University

Thomas Harvell-DeGolier, University of Notre Dame

A Poison on the Nation: Conservatism, Militarization, and the Inter-American War on Drugs

Emilie Cunning, Emory University

The Making of the Militarized War on Poverty: Project 100,000 and the Soldiers of the State

Mark Thomas-Patterson, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Divine Graduate Student Grant

Building the Environmental New World Order: The Debate over Environmental Diplomacy in the George H.W. Bush Administration

Panel 60: Vaya Con Dios, My Darling? U.S. Foreign Policy in Latin America and the Caribbean
Chair and Comment: Andrew J. Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

Richard Sakamoto-Pugh, Vanderbilt University

Making Friends for Empire: Good Neighbor Police Relations in North America, 1936–1947

Ana G. Calderón, Yale University

Taking Care of Our Own: Rural Community Development and Volunteerism in Puerto Rico's War on Poverty, 1964–1970

Morsi Abdelkrim, Université Paris Cité, France

Between Humanitarian Mission, Religious Proselytizing, and Expansion of American Imperialism in Cuba, 1898–1920

Panel 61: New International Histories of Inequality: The NIEO and Global Economic Governance from the Global South, 1970s–1980s

Chair: Vivien Chang, Yale University

Comment: Michael Franczak, International Peace Institute and University of Pennsylvania

Christy Thornton, Johns Hopkins University

On the Origins of the NIEO: Methodology and Archives in International History

Frank Gerits, Utrecht University, Netherlands

Jimmy Carter, the NIEO, and the History of Anticolonial Capitalism and Socialism in Africa, 1970s–1980s

Ana Sofía Rodríguez-Everaert, El Colegio de México, Mexico

The NIEO and Human Rights in Mexico: Interpretations and Iterations, 1970–1990

Panel 62: For God, Country, and the Children: International Efforts to Restrain U.S. Interventionism in the Cold War

Chair: Petra Goedde, Temple University

Comment: Barbara Keys, Durham University, United Kingdom

Theresa Keeley, University of Louisville

What Is a Humanitarian?: Navigating Internal Organizational Conflicts & Governmental Relations in Aiding Injured Vietnamese Children

Andrea Oñate-Madrado, California Polytechnic State University

The Perks of Being a Palm Tree: Divisions Within the FMLN over Its Alliance with the Socialist International

Brian Mueller, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

In the Name of God: Pledge of Resistance and Religious Opposition to Reagan's Undeclared War on Nicaragua

Panel 63: Roundtable: Thinking with John Quincy Adams 200 Years after the Monroe Doctrine

Sponsored by the Seward House Museum

Chair: Alison Mann, U.S. Department of State

Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Charles Edel, Center for Strategic and International Studies

Jessica Lepler, University of New Hampshire

Neal Millikan, Massachusetts Historical Society

Dael Norwood, University of Delaware

Friday, June 16, 4:45pm–5:30pm: UPenn Press Reception: Power, Politics, and the World

Sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania Press

Friday, June 16, 6:00pm–10:00pm: Social Event: Dinner Cruise of the Potomac

SATURDAY, JUNE 17

Saturday, June 17, 8:00am–9:00am: Book Proposal Workshop Breakfast

Cecelia A. Cancellaro, Senior Editor, Cambridge University Press
Stephen M. Wrinn, Director, University of Notre Dame Press

Saturday, June 17, 8:00am–9:00am: Off the Tenure Track Mentorship Breakfast

Amanda Boczar, Curator, Digital Collections at University of South Florida Libraries
Eric Perinovic, Historian, Naval History and Heritage Command, U.S. Navy
Amna Qayyum, Fellow, The Brookings Institution

Saturday, June 17, 8:00am–9:00am: Breakfast

Saturday, June 17, 9:00am–10:30am: Session VIII

Panel 64: Roundtable: Non-State Actors' Responses to U.S. Foreign Policy Developments

Chair: Marc-William Palen, University of Exeter, United Kingdom

Darius Wainwright, University of Bristol, United Kingdom
Mara Oliva, University of Reading, United Kingdom
Andrew Johnstone, University of Leicester, United Kingdom
Martha T. Hayakawa, Independent Scholar
Divine Graduate Student Grant

Panel 65: The Intellectual Foundations of U.S. World Order

Chair: David Milne, University of East Anglia, United Kingdom
Comment: Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University

Seokju Oh, Columbia University
Anti-Totalitarian Vermont: The Agricultural New Deal and the Totalitarianism Theory of Carl J. Friedrich
Sean Case, Boston University

“A Period of Swift and Far-Reaching Upheaval”: Henry Kissinger, Robert Osgood, George Lincoln, and the Adoption of Limited War

Elena Wicker, U.S. Army Futures Command

French, English, and Military: Multilingual Terminology Standardization in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (1950–2020)

Panel 66: Crossing the Bamboo Curtain: Connections, Containment, and U.S.-China Relations during the Cold War

Chair and Comment: Joyce Mao, Middlebury College

Kuan-Jen Chen, Academia Sinica, Taiwan

Strange Bedfellows: Chiang Kai-shek and His Imaginary Anti-Communism Alliance, 1949–1954

Elizabeth O’Brien Ingleson, London School of Economics and Political Science, United Kingdom

The Canton Trade Fairs and the U.S. Embargo: China’s Trade with Capitalist Nations during the Cold War

Jason M. Kelly, Cardiff University, United Kingdom

Red and Expert: Scientific and Technical Collaboration between Mao’s China and Capitalist Firms during the Cultural Revolution

Philip Thai, Northeastern University

Evading Embargoes: Chinese Front Companies in Cold War Hong Kong

Panel 67: Reassessing Japan's Iwakura Mission (1871–73) and the United States: Origins and Outcomes

Chair and Comment: Natalia Doan, Oxford University, United Kingdom

John E. Van Sant, University of Alabama at Birmingham

Japan’s Diplomat in Washington: Mori Arinori and the Iwakura Mission

Haruko Wakabayashi, Rutgers University

The Rutgers Network and Its Role in the Iwakura Mission

Joseph M. Henning, Rochester Institute of Technology

Alice Mabel Bacon and Unintended Results of the Iwakura Mission

Panel 68: The Rising Tide of Terror: Decolonization and Global North Responses to International Terrorism

Chair and Comment: Beverly Gage, Yale University

Silke Zoller, Kennesaw State University

Crippling a World Power: Ronald Reagan’s Fears of Another Hostage Crisis

Alex Hobson, U.S. Naval War College

The Cassandras of Counterterrorism

Joseph Stieb, U.S. Naval War College

The Great World Disorder: Decolonization and Conservative Interpretations of Terrorism

Panel 69: U.S. Foreign Relations in Extreme Environments

Chair & Comment: Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Sonya Schoenberger, Stanford University and Yale Law School

Seabed Sovereignities: North-South Contestations over Deep Sea Resources Regimes

Tess Lanzarotta, Denison University

A Lab at the Top of the World: Envisioning Alaska in the Early Cold War

Boyd Ruamcharoen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Divine Graduate Student Grant

Archive Fever after Empire: American Archivists, Reprographic Technology, and the Postcolonial Tropics, 1945–1972

Stephen Buono, Harvard University

Bad Moon Rising: The United States, the Global South, and Battles over Lunar Resources

Panel 70: Roundtable: *The Struggle for Iran, 1951–1954: A Discussion with the Authors

Chair: Robert J. McMahon, The Ohio State University

Gregory Brew, Yale University

David S. Painter, Georgetown University

Dane Kennedy, George Washington University

Sheyda Jahanbani, University of Kansas

James F. Goode, Grand Valley State University

Panel 71: Intelligence Gathering and the Psychology of Foreign Policy during and after World War II

Chair and Comment: William Gray, Purdue University

Simona Tobia, Université de Pau et des Pays de l'Adour, France

Human Intelligence and the Weaponization of Culture in World War II

Jennifer Rigdon Teter, Independent Scholar

British Interception of American Transatlantic Mail at Bermuda during World War II

Lori Helene Gronich, George Washington University

Cognition and Choice in 1962: A New Psychological Perspective on Kennedy Administration

Nuclear Decision-Making

Panel 72: Roundtable: Vietnamizing the Study of the Vietnam War and the Convergence of International History, Area Studies, and Ethnic Studies

Chair: Pierre Asselin, San Diego State University

David Prentice, Oklahoma State University

Nu-Anh Tran, University of Connecticut

Y Thien Nguyen, University of Leeds, United Kingdom/University of Oregon

George Veith, Independent Scholar

Panel 73: Manifest Destiny and U.S. Diplomacy

Chair: Amy S. Greenberg, Pennsylvania State University

Comment: Brian Rouleau, Texas A&M University

Christopher Rasmussen, University of Guam

So Charming an Illusion: U.S. Consul to Guam Captain Samuel Masters and Young America's Fortunes in the Pacific, 1853–1857

Abdiel J. Perez, Pennsylvania State University

“My Country Disgraced in Small Portions that Our Enemy Will Undoubtedly Absorb”: The Republic of Texas's Contributions to Yucatecan Secession Efforts

Daniel J. Burge, Kentucky Historical Society

Canada or Cuba? The Southern Fear of Canadian Annexation, 1848–1855

Saturday, June 17, 10:30am–10:50am: Refreshment Break

Sponsored by University of Virginia Miller Center of Public Affairs

Saturday, June 17, 10:50am–12:20pm: Session IX

Panel 74: Challenging Empire via Aviation: Interrupting the West’s Dominance of the Skies, 1945–1995

Chair and Comment: John Wong, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Jane Ferguson, Australian National University, Australia

The Burmese Way to Waikiki: The Revolutionary Council’s Challenge to the United States and its Aerial Empire

Kaori Takada, Otsuma Women’s University, Japan

Resumption of Civil Aviation for a Symbol of Demilitarization in Postwar Japan

Elizabeth Manley, Xavier University of Louisiana

“Wings Over the Antilles”: The Gendered Politics of Caribbean Air Travel during the Cold War

Phil Tiemeyer, Kansas State University

Homosexual as Modern?: Air Jamaica’s Stewards and Cosmopolitan Notions of Queerness

Panel 75: Teaching, Learning, and Assessment for the History of U.S. Foreign Relations

Chair and Comment: Molly M. Wood, Wittenberg University

Dan DuBois, Saint Leo University

Writing by and for the Classroom: The Merits of Undergraduate Collaboration in Professional Scholarship Projects at Teaching-Intensive Colleges and Universities

Chelsea C. Gibson, Binghamton University

Harnessing Digital Media in the History Classroom

Brian C. Etheridge, Kennesaw State University

Role-Playing Pedagogy and the Teaching of America in the World

Carl P. Watts, Air University

Assessing “Applied” History in Professional Military Education

Panel 76: The Early Cold War in Europe

Chair and Comment: Alexander Vazansky, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Anna Fett, Colgate University

Spreading the “American Way” of Intergroup Relations: The Post-World War II Agenda of the National Conference of Christians and Jews in Western Europe

Connor Sebestyen, University of Toronto, Canada

Reluctant Compromise or Welcome Opportunity? The Rearmament Debate and the Closing of the American War Crimes Program in West Germany

David Cardillo, University of Reading, United Kingdom

U.S. Covert Operation in Italy during the Cold War

Panel 77: The Declining Wages of Empire: Political Economy and the Domestic Politics of Military Spaces in the Late 20th Century United States

Chair and Comment: Amanda C. Demmer, Virginia Tech

Michael A. Brenes, Yale University

For Jobs and Country: The Reagan Defense Buildup in an Age of Austerity

David Fitzgerald, University College Cork, Ireland

Closing Down the Cold War: Clinton-era Military Base Closures and the Political Economy of American Defense Strategy

Sarah R. Meiners, Cornell University

“Guests” on Certain Soil: The Economics of Refugee Operations in Guam

Panel 78: Roundtable: Keywords in Global Histories of U.S. War and Empire

Chair and Comment: Christopher Capozzola, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simon’s Rock

Occupation

Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University

Race

Patrick Chung, University of Maryland

Infrastructure

Panel 79: When the Wind Blows: Atomic Education, Science, and the Politics of Nuclear Energy

Chair and Comment: Sean Trundle, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Mei Ling Young, Independent Scholar

Janus-Faced Experts: Nuclear Scientists and the Nuclear Testing Debates, 1954–1963

Felicitas Hartung, University of California, San Diego

Man + Atomic Power + A Reasonable and Human Attitude = Safety of Man: The Weaponizing of Information Control and the Politicization of Science

Katie Davis, University of Toronto, Canada

“Men Only Again”: Women-Led Nuclear Education in the Late 1940s United States”

Panel 80: Labor, Workers Rights, and U.S. Cold War and Imperial Foreign Policy

Chair and Comment: Adam Howard, Office of the Historian, U.S. Department of State

Antonio S. Thompson, Austin Peay State University

Working for the Enemy: Axis Prisoner of War Labor in the Mid-South During World War II

Sejoo Kim, Gyeongin National University of Education, South Korea

Imperial Trade in the Pacific: U.S. Tariff Schedule, Migrant Labor, and Self-Rule in the Northern Marianas

Kevin Grimm, Regent University

“Workers' Fists Against Soviet Steel”: The International Confederation of Free Trade Union's Human Rights Reaction to the 1953 East German Uprising

Panel 81: Crisis and Change from the Middle East to Southeast Asia during the Cold War

Chair and Comment: Aiyaz Husain, Evergood Impact

Shahin Berenji, Texas A&M University

To the Brink and Back: Egypt, Israel, and the War Scares of 1977

Eliza Gheorghe, Vanderbilt University; Murat İplikçi, Bilkent University, Turkey; and Fatih Tokath, Bilkent University, Turkey

Neither “Little America” nor “Little Turkey”: The Security-Economics Nexus in Turkish-American Relations

Widy Novantyo Susanto, Bilkent University, Turkey

Divine Graduate Student Grant

U.S.-ASEAN Relations and Economic Power in Southeast Asia, 1969–1981

Saturday, June 17, 12:30pm–2:00pm: Keynote Address Luncheon

Thomas S. Blanton, National Security Archive

Any Classified Documents in Your Garage? The Sad State of Classification, Declassification, and Records Management for Diplomatic History

4:05pm: Nationals vs. Marlins